Editorial

The year 2023 has been marked by the exponential development of artificial intelligence in our lives. It disrupts some of our professional practices, integrates into our daily lives, questions us, intrigues us, stimulates us, and, honestly, also worries us sometimes.

What is the future of our professions in the dawn of an AI already capable of everything? What values do our skills have in the face of such sharp virtual brains? Because it is no longer simply a question of being observers but of being those who shape the uses of AI, appropriate it, and make it evolve, we have initiated a whole range of new training programs with the current challenges posed by AI.

With the same care given to the choice and experience of the trainers who support you, we continue to develop formats that can best adapt to your goals and the profiles of the people being trained. Finally, keep in mind that our training offer is constantly evolving, so our website www.oxiane-institut.com remains the main source of detailed and up-to-date information.
